CONNECTING. ELEVATING. INSPIRING.

A full-body photograph of Brittney Jeanson standing in the center of a stone archway. She has long, wavy blonde hair and is smiling at the camera. She is wearing a black, short-sleeved, knee-length dress with a flared skirt and bright pink high-heeled shoes. Her hands are on her hips. The archway is made of stone and is surrounded by lush green foliage and red flowers. The background is slightly blurred, showing a path leading through the archway.

BRITTNEY Jeanson

To know Brittney Jeanson is to love her.

Her bubbly, effervescent personality coupled with a commitment to serving and loving her clients in the most honest and truthful way makes her the kind of person you want on your team. Brittney married her high school sweetheart in 1987 and worked as a dental assistant prior to having her first baby and becoming a self-proclaimed “domestic goddess”/stay-at-home mama until 2008. When the recession hit, Brittney (who had earned her real estate license in 2006) was working five jobs to help save their home. A friend who had a brokerage hired Brittney and she started out working short sales, doing BPO’s and helping the broker with his files. She jumped in headfirst and had to learn everything “And here I am 12 years later, what a ride and blessing! I love that I have grown and am stretched in my character and faith in this business. I just love all the facets of real estate, and especially my clients that become my friends and all the amazing agents I get to meet and learn from.” This next year Brittney is most excited about becoming a GLAMMA to her first grandchild. She is excited to watch her children grow and have babies of their own. On leading her team, Brittney says “I want to be a leader that I would follow. Leaders give when they don’t have to, care for others, grow continuously, live authentically, empower others, manage hardship and serve with humility. I want my actions to speak louder than my words and want to bless others as I have been blessed.”

“ I WANT TO BE A LEADER THAT I WOULD FOLLOW. LEADERS GIVE WHEN THEY DON'T HAVE TO, CARE FOR OTHERS, GROW CONTINUOUSLY, LIVE AUTHENTICALLY, EMPOWER OTHERS, MANAGE HARDSHIP AND SERVE WITH HUMILITY. ”

JENNEL OLDENDORF

Photos By Marissa Menezes

Devoted wife and mom. Veteran. Former Title Rep. Loving friend and daughter. Realtor. Jennel Oldendorf has worn many hats over the years! Born in Long Beach and raised in Yucaipa, Jennel was commissioned as an officer in the Army after college and served as a Lieutenant of a Military Police platoon. She attended Airborne school and served two tours in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom. After her time in the military, Jennel returned home to Yucaipa where her mom, Jamie Maines, was a Title Rep for New Century Title. The market was hot and Jamie brought Jennel onto her team. “We had such a blast helping agents achieve their goals. We would help them create marketing, door knock with agents, walk their farms, and we built such great friendships. The market took a downward spiral, and I was let go. It was perfect timing because I was expecting my first born so it allowed me to stay home and be a Mom, which is the hardest job on earth!” Jennel stayed home with her kids until they were both in school and then got her license and started in commercial real estate with Lee & Associates. After 2 years she transitioned over to residential real estate and has been with Coldwell Banker Kivett-Teeters for the past 4 years. Jennel lost her mom to brain cancer 7 years ago. “The highest tribute to the dead is not grief but gratitude” Jennel says “My mom loved life fiercely. She taught me to choose joy, and to be kind to everyone. I do grieve for her, but more importantly I LIVE my life fully for her.”

...

FOR GOD AND COUNTRY

...

“THE WOMAN WHO HAS CONFIDENCE IN HERSELF
GAINS THE CONFIDENCE OF OTHERS.”

“

The military helped me realize my strengths and weakness. As a leader in the military, I walked a fine line between self-confidence and humility. It provided me with confidence well beyond my years and helped me pay attention to others needs before my own. This confidence and humility helps me in every avenue of my business. A real estate agent connects with clients by being confident but also listening to their hopes and needs.

Heather LANGLEY

Photos By Marissa Menezes

Heather Langley's path to real estate was born out of pain and trial, but she has turned it into a success story for herself and her family. Growing up in San Bernardino, Heather attended Cajon High School and CSUSB. After college, she worked as a Middle School PE Teacher, College Tennis Coach and Administrative Assistant at Water of Life Community Church. Heather and her husband, David, were living in Rancho Cucamonga with their three children, Aaron (12), Kylie (11) and Ethan (5) in 2017 when they learned that Ethan had been diagnosed with Acute Lymphoblastic Leukemia. As she spent hours and days in the hospital by Ethan's side, Heather thought about a career path that would give her the flexibility to care for Ethan with the financial payoff to help cover all the hospital bills. She had always had a fascination with the business side of real estate, so she studied, took her test and the rest is history! Three years later and Ethan is scheduled to have his last chemo treatment in July! The family has a trip to Hawaii planned to celebrate the end of everything he has been through. In the face of something really difficult, Heather has found a career she truly loves. "Helping families fulfill their dreams of homeownership is my favorite part of what I do. I love to include the kids in the buying and selling process and make it fun for them. They light up when I give them my Home Adventure Journal that they can take around with them on our house showings. The relationships that are formed through Real Estate transactions are priceless and I'm thankful for each and every family that I meet." ●●●

“When Ethan was diagnosed with Lymphoblastic Leukemia, I knew that I needed a different career that would allow me to be available for his chemo treatments, but also provide financial stability. This last year, there were many times where I was closing escrows while he was sleeping in his hospital bed next to me, and that was confirmation for me that I was in the right career that God was directing for me all along.”
