WINDERMERE
REALTY GROUP, LLC

A Trailblazer in Real Estate

In the Portland metro world of real estate, one name stands out: Judy Adler, owner and dynamic force behind Windermere Realty Group, LLC. With nearly four decades of experience, Judy has not only weathered the ever-changing landscape of the real estate industry but has emerged as a leader, mentor, and advocate for realizing dreams.

Judy's journey into real estate was an unexpected twist of fate. After Judy graduated from Portland State University with a degree in Speech & Communication, specializing in broadcasting, she began her career at a UHF television station in Southern Oregon as an evening News Anchor, leading to roles such as noon Anchor, evening Reporter, and host of Human-Interest stories.

Marriage brought Judy back to Portland, where she realized the media market was much larger than she was ready for. She stepped into a support role at KGW for a year before deciding she wanted to follow a different career path.

She re-enrolled at PSU to pursue a second degree in Psychology, hoping to become a therapist. During this time, Judy was drawn into real estate through a unique opportunity with a development company.

Judy says, "I was working for a development company in a support role when they offered to pay for my post-baccalaureate degree if I would also take real estate classes. And so, it was. I took the classes, got my real estate license, and the company sent me out to oversee many aspects of their biggest project, a subdivision in SW Beaverton called Murrayhill. I spent about a decade there selling homes and lots while collaborating with builders. It was a blast. At that time, I did not have children, so I worked before the sun came up and far past dark on weekdays and weekends. At last, I'd found myself in the right place at the right time and knew being in the real estate industry was what I would do for the rest of my professional career." Her diverse education in media and psychology equipped her with valuable communication skills that seamlessly translated into the world of real estate.

Judy has spent years in numerous real estate-related organizations, including PMAR, OAR, Masters Circle, and Buffini and Company. The list is extensive, and her love of the industry is evident. Judy elaborates on her most rewarding aspect of real estate, "The thing I enjoy the most about real estate is that there are no two transactions alike. We have people, personalities, houses, negotiations - you name it, we find ourselves working it. Our business is dynamic - it is about people, business, circumstances, and life. I love ever-changing experiences."

Judy also finds passion in many facets of the business, as she tells us, "I love working with new clients for the very first time. This might mean a first-time homebuyer, or it could just be a client that is new to me; it is all rewarding. However, after nearly 40 years in the business, I know the feeling of working with the same client multiple times and being referred to their friends or family. I am passionate about this as it makes being in the business more than transactional; it is about experiencing another person fulfilling their hopes and dreams and allowing me to be a part of it."

When asked about her biggest challenge as a REALTOR®, Judy reflects on the dynamic nature of the business. "I do not have one specific challenge in real estate that comes to mind. Almost every transaction is full of a variety of challenges, but it is in those challenges that we get better."

For Judy, overcoming challenges is not just a part of the job but a source of joy and growth. "It is the joy in the journey that I enjoy," she adds.

Beyond real estate, Judy takes immense pride in her many families, which she describes as "my family of origin, my family at work, my family at church, and most importantly, my family of four adult children."

Her oldest daughter, Amy, collaborates with her in business. After graduating from the University of Oregon with a Bachelor of Education in Family and Human Services and working for Nike for a year, Amy realized her heart was in real estate.

Judy and Amy with Business Coach, Brian Buffini

Judy and her children are hiking in San Diego in celebration of Judy beating breast cancer!

Amy started her real estate career with a top-producing Windermere agent, but once the office closed due to COVID, Amy joined forces with her mom, and they have been going full speed ahead since. Judy says, "Sharing this experience with my clients and my daughter simultaneously has brought a whole new level of joy and passion to my business."

Judy's oldest son, James, who also attended the University of Oregon, is a Computational Biologist working for a pharmaceutical company in Utah. Her younger son, Randall, started his catering company, Oregon Wood Fired Pizza NW, after graduating from the U of O, and her youngest daughter, Faith, is a senior at the U of O studying Japanese & Linguistics.

With a smile, Judy shares that she became a grandma in 2021 and now has four grandchildren and another on the way.

Judy finds solace and rejuvenation in nature, whether it's hiking in the Gorge, biking, hitting golf balls, or soaking up sunshine by a pool. Her passion for work-life balance is evident in the way she values the time spent with her adult children, turning each moment into a cherished memory.

Driven by a goal-oriented mindset developed in her childhood, Judy emphasizes the importance of dreaming about life and putting those dreams into practice. "We moved a great deal when I was growing up. With so much moving, it became important for me to think about what I wanted and put into motion the basic steps for making the most of each place we lived."

Judy's advice for future Top Producers is simple yet profound: "Stay focused and be flexible. The early years in real estate can be difficult as you learn the business, but if you know what you want from life and how real estate can get you there, the two dreams can work well together."

She echoes the sentiment of perseverance, advising, "Never Give Up and Never Give In." This mantra has not only helped to shape her career but has been passed down to her children, who have found success in their respective fields.

As we conclude our conversation with Judy, she shares a heartfelt message for readers of Portland Real Producers, "It is my hope and dream for all that read your magazine that they embrace the best life has to offer. We get to make this journey just once, so make the most of it. Be the best version of yourself and help others to do the same. As Brian Buffini has said to us many times, 'If you give it out in slices, it will come back to you in loaves.'"

In the ever-changing world of real estate, Ben Matson and WFG National Title Company stand out as beacons of innovation and client-focused solutions. With a career spanning nearly two decades, Ben Matson's journey from receptionist to VP Sales Manager is a testament to his dedication and passion for the industry.

WFG National Title Company is primarily known for its Title Insurance and Escrow Services, but as Ben emphasizes, their offerings extend far beyond the conventional. "We take a consultative approach with our clients to identify needs and then bring them customized solutions," says Ben. From property and market data to technology help, social media ideas, device and software security, marketing, and education, WFG National Title goes above and beyond to meet the diverse needs of its clients.

Ben Matson

WFG National Title Company

The WFG team at their Bocce Ball Tournament

Ben with wife, Jenn

Ben adds, "Rather than have a 'menu' of options for people to choose from, we ask targeted questions and come up with a customized plan and solution that is best for the client." This personalized approach sets WFG National Title apart from its competition, providing clients with tailor-made solutions that address their specific requirements.

Ben's entry into the real estate industry began in 2004 when he was hired by Michelle Couch as a receptionist at Transnation Title in Lake Oswego. After a few short months, Ben quickly advanced to become an escrow assistant. His journey continued as WFG National Title opened its doors in 2010, where he joined the sales team.

Reflecting on his trajectory, Ben says, "It has been an honor to be a part of WFG from the very beginning. Very few people get the opportunity to help start a title company. I've learned and grown a lot from the experience."

WFG National Title Company is unique in that it is privately owned and headquartered in Portland. Its flat organizational structure with minimal layers of management fosters direct access to leadership, both internally and for clients. "We measure everything from prelims and trios to call-back time because our Founder, Pat Stone, says, 'If you can't measure it, you can't manage it,'" states Ben.

Ben is quick to praise his team, describing them as "Amazing" and "The Best!" The team at WFG National Title comprises continual learners with a passion for improvement, critical thinkers, and service-oriented individuals. "They understand that we only exist because of our clients and are well-respected, impactful members of our local real estate community," adds Ben.

With a tenured and dedicated team, WFG National Title Company continues to set industry standards, offering unparalleled expertise and customized solutions for its clients. Ben Matson's journey is not only a personal success story but also a reflection of the company's commitment to excellence in every facet of real estate services. As they continue to evolve and innovate, WFG National Title remains a trusted partner for clients navigating the intricate landscape of real estate transactions.

What Are You Reading?

Book recommendations from our Top Producers

We are avid readers here at Portland Real Producers, and sometimes we need a good recommendation. We asked some of our Top Producers to share their favorite books and podcasts. Put these great titles on your To Be Read list!

“The two most recent books I’ve listened to our Shoe Dog by Phil Knight and Steve Jobs by Walter Isaacson. Both were fascinating accounts of resilience and perseverance.”

KEVIN HALL, HALL GROUP PROPERTIES, CASCADE HASSON SOTHEY’S INTERNATIONAL REALTY

“The Bible, Never Split the Difference by Chris Voss, The Go-Giver and Go-Givers Sell More by Bob Burg and John David Mann.”

NICK SHIVERS, THE NICK SHIVERS TEAM, KELLER WILLIAMS REALTY PDX CENTRAL

“I am re-reading Seth Godin’s “Purple Cow...Transform your Business by Being Remarkable”. With so much marketing “noise” out there, standing out by doing something different and unique is a way to grab attention and set oneself apart. This is something we are all working on doing in a crowded field of online real estate resources. It’s inspiring and a great reminder to think far outside the box!”

ALEXIS HALMY, WINDERMERE REALTY TRUST

“The Bible, Rick Warren’s Purpose Driven Life, Bob Farrell’s Give Em The Pickle, Bob Moore’s People Before Profit, Neff/Citrin’s You’re In Charge, Now What?, James Collin’s Good To Great, and Tony Evan’s Detours. All great reads!”

meet ► REALTOR® on the rise

COREY

Realty One Group Prestige

Corey Kennedy is described by the president of his brokerage as a “rock star agent!” Corey has been with Realty ONE Group Prestige since July 2020 and has hit the ground running since coming into the industry. Exceedingly reliable, communicative, and a wealth of knowledge, Corey has found his true calling.

KENNEDY

When did you start your career in real estate?

I started my career in real estate in July of 2020.

What did you do before you became a REALTOR®? Did you have a mentor or someone that helped lead the way?

Before I became a REALTOR®, I was a Sales Development Manager for Comcast.

What's your favorite part of being a REALTOR®? / What has become the most rewarding part of your business?

My favorite part of being a REALTOR® has to be the day I get to hand over the keys to a new homeowner. The looks and smiles on their faces make any trouble during the transaction all worth it.

The most rewarding part of my business is meeting new clients, getting to know them, their families, and what their goals are.

What is your biggest challenge as a REALTOR®?

My biggest challenge as a REALTOR®, starting out and even 3.5 years later, is making sure the pipeline is full and always prospecting. It is important to stay in touch with past clients and continuously build those relationships.

Tell us about your family. Any pets?

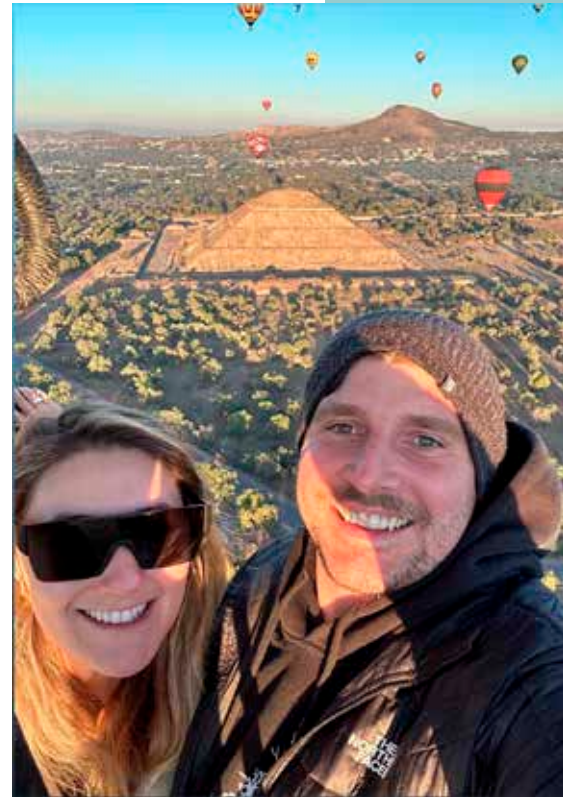

My wife is a civil engineer for the City of Tigard. We have a 15-year-old son and a 6-year-old Vizsla.

What are your hobbies and interests outside of the business?

I love to golf and am a member of Heron Lakes Golf Club and Glendoveer Golf and Tennis. I also love the Blazers, so I try to make it to as many home games as possible.

PRESENTS

Stay Inspired

WORDS OF WISDOM FROM THIS MONTH'S FEATURES

JUDY ADLER

Windermere Realty Group, LLC

"We have learned that real estate doesn't have to be done in just one way. There are many different methods and business/team structures available on the path to being a top producer. Find your own path, and it will be uniquely rewarding!"

A word from our Preferred Partner:

BEN MATSON

WFG National Title Company

"My parents taught me to do my chores first, then play. In adulthood, I try to do the same.

Don't procrastinate; pick up the phone, do the hard things first, and then play hard, too. Also, to treat people with kindness....how you would want to be treated - The Golden Rule."

COREY KENNEDY

Realty One Group Prestige

"The effort and time you put into your business, you will see in returns. Be patient, stay consistent, and trust your process. If you are doing your best, it will always work out."
